Artist: Ricky Van Shelton

Song: I've Cried My Last Tear For You

When you left me lonely here I thought that I would drown in tears
As one was wiped away another one would take its place
But drop by drop as time went by I slowly ran that river dry
Till I finally realized today.

Well, I've cried my last tear for you, wasted my last year on you
There's no trace of the heartache I knew
It's been rainin' pain since you walked out but baby, that's all over now
'Cause I've cried my last tear for you.

I used to lay alone in bed with my pillow soaking wet
And all of those lonely nights I thought there was no end in sight
I cried my heart out over you then I cried the hurt out too
It took a while but now I'll be all right.

Now, I've cried my last tear for you, wasted my last year on you
There's no trace of the heartache I knew
It's been rainin' pain since you walked out but baby, that's all over now
'Cause I've cried my last tear for you.

Yes baby, I've cried my last tear for
