

Dans: Tumbling Rush
Artist: Trisha Yearwood
Song: They Call It Falling For A Reason

He had me spinning like a girl in the circus in a trapeze act
Tell me what are you supposed to do when you've been kissed like that
I don't think I've ever been so high
Is it any wonder I felt like I could fly

It's a tumblin' rush it's a helpless kind of feeling
When your heart doesn't know which way is up or down
'Til you hit the ground hard and fast, bruised & barely breathin'
I guess they call it falling for a reason

I was death defying, yeah, flying with the greatest of ease
There was nothing out there but the wind and the air and me
It's a long way down I don't know how I survived
It's a hell of a way to feel like you're alive

It's a tumblin' rush it's a helpless kind of feeling
When your heart doesn't know which way is up or down
'Til you hit the ground hard and fast, bruised & barely breathin'
I guess they call it falling for a reason

Falling
I don't think I've ever been so high
Is it any wonder I felt like I could fly

It's a tumblin' rush it's a helpless kind of feeling
When your heart doesn't know which way is up or down
'Til you hit the ground hard and fast, bruised & barely breathin'
I guess they call it falling for a reason
They call it falling for a reason
Falling
Falling
